Channel 3 to Feature Star, Split Hickory; Old Timer Visits

On Friday, May 7, Television Station KTBS, Channel 3, Shreveport, will visit Hope to do a color feature on Hope Star and Split Hickory, to be aired at a date to be named.

The camera party will be headed by Eris Houchin, feature photographer for KTBS News Department. They will be guests of The Star at noon luncheon, then will photograph the newspaper and Split Hickory plants during the afternoon, winding up with coverage of the Farm Bureau's annual barbecue.

As Mr. Houchin explained, The Star is an interesting subject because of its modern offset printing plant, and its widely-publicized experiments in four-color, or process, reproduction of photographs.

Split Hickory is famous for its fancy walking stick, distributed all over the world.

Stealer of Airplanes Is Jailed

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Clarence E. Dunham, 34, of Claremore, Okla., an unemployed coal miner who had been sought by the FBI for several armed robberies and the theft of a number of airplanes in at least three states, was being held today in the city jail here.

Dunham was arrested Sunday at the municipal airport at nearby Rogers.

Dunham was taken before Federal Magistrate Walter Niblock late Monday and waived counsel and a preliminary hearing on a federal charge of interstate transportation of a stolen airplane. Niblock set bond for Dunham at $1,500.

Police said Dunham had flown to Rogers in a 1970 Cessna that was reported stolen in Larned, Kan. Authorities said Dunham was not armed but that a .22-caliber pistol was found in a small bag inside the plane.

Ex-ABC Agent Is Fined $250

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Former ABC Director Joe Gaspard was fined $250 Monday in Circuit Court here after he pleaded guilty to attempting to commit a felony.

The ex-ABC director originally was charged with being an accessory to a felony for allegedly destroying a quantity of hashish that belonged to Charles Darnis, 23, a former ABC agent.

The charge of possession of illegal drugs against Darnis was reduced to a misdemeanor, however. This caused a complication in the case against Gaspard because being an accessory to a misdemeanor is not a criminal offense.

Fugitive Is Taken at Hardy

HARDY, Ark. (AP) — Sammy Reese, 19, one of four persons who escaped Friday from the Mammoth Springs jail, was captured here Monday night by State Police.

Gerald Reese, 31, was the only one of the four who remained at large today, officers said. Two others were arrested Sunday.

Rogers in Beirut, Next Stop Cairo

By LEWIS GULICK
Associated Press Writer
BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers talked today with Lebanese leaders about Palestinian refugees and guerrillas, then headed for Cairo on his Mideast peace-seeking tour.

He left after a 24-hour stopover in the Lebanese capital following similar visits to Jordan and Saudi Arabia.

Rogers met with Lebanese Prime Minister Saeb Salam and Foreign Minister Khalil Abu Hamad.

U.S. officials said the talks did not involve specific proposals for a Middle East peace solution.

The U.S. officials added that Rogers told the Lebanese foreign minister the purpose of his journey was three fold:

To learn directly the attitudes of the parties concerned; to make clear the U.S. position is not prejudiced in any one direction, except in the direction of peace; and hopefully, to bring the parties closer together.

In Cairo, President Anwar Sadat held a meeting with his top aides to set Egypt's future military and political policies.

The meeting was held only a few hours before Rogers' scheduled arrival for a three-day visit with Sadat, Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad and other leaders.

The visit to Israel Thursday night and Friday will wind up Rogers' five-country mission to the Middle East aimed at spurring some movement in the deadlocked peace talks.

U.S. policy-makers regard the Egypt-Israel dispute as the biggest problem in the complex Arab-Israeli stalemate. Rogers says he hopes that at least he can narrow the gap between the rival Egyptian and Israeli proposals to reopen the Suez Canal.

So far Egypt and Israel have not budget from their public positions. Egypt says it wants its forces to cross the canal into the area which would be vacated by Israeli troops for the canal opening. Israel says no.

Rogers believes that the Suez issue is the best bet for at least a part-way agreement toward an over-all settlement since Egypt, Israel and the big powers all favor opening the international passageway closed since the 1967 war.

Garbage Averaging One Ton Per Person Per Year, Says Boyle

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Condemned Awaiting Execution Total 641 Men and 7 Women

WASHINGTON (AP) — Douglas B. Lyons, a young Columbia law student who keeps an up-to-minute log on death row inmates across the land, was shaken.

"The court has decreed a bloodbath the likes of which the nation has never seen," he exclaimed shortly after Monday's 6-3 ruling dismissed the two leading legal challenges to death-penalty procedures in the United States.

Lyons, chairman of Citizens Against Legalized Murder, an organization of hundreds of lawyers opposed to capital punishment, was understandably sweeping in his analysis.

After 2½ years of deliberation and three separate rounds of argument, six of the nine justices had concluded the Constitution requires neither standards to guide juries nor splitting capital trials into two phases.

But in the 33 states where 641 men and 7 women reside on death row, the governors have power to delay executions or to commute death sentences. Numerous stays are in effect, meanwhile, and some 115 appeals are pending in the Supreme Court, seeking to attack the death penalty on other grounds.

The primary argument—one the court has never agreed to consider—is that the 8th

Amendment's prohibition on "cruel and unusual punishment" should be taken to mean the death penalty is unconstitutional.

The second most common argument is that juries in these cases are tilted unfairly toward the conviction side since people with deep-seated revulsions to capital punishment tend to be excluded.

The court already has ruled against arbitrary exclusion of potential jurors with scruples against the death penalty.

Lawyers from the 33 states with death-row inmates will assemble in New York May 15 for a two-day strategy session under direction of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund.

The Fund, representing more than half the prisoners on death row, contends the penalty falls disproportionately on the poor and the blacks and other minorities.

Jeffrey Mintz, a Fund lawyer, took a mildly optimistic stand, saying "technically nothing" stands in the way of scores of executions. But Mintz said he expects the court to agree shortly to hear the 8th Amendment argument.

Justice John M. Harlan's majority opinion disputed mostly on logical grounds that legislatures can write standards adequate to guide juries.

Protest at Capital Falls Apart

WASHINGTON (AP) — Anti-war protester's hopes of kindling guerrilla-style efforts to halt the nation's government disintegrated today and the Pentagon began withdrawing 4,000 federal troops from the streets and bridges of the capital.

Wholesale arrests of more than 7,000 persons Monday appeared to have broken the back of the planned three days of disruptions.

As the Marines, paratroopers and other federal troops began withdrawing from the capital, police reported another 200 arrests had been made today as demoralized bands of young

D.C. Court Jammed With 7,000 Cases

Courtrooms in the nation's capital, where the slightest misdemeanor is a federal case, turned into an endless factory as judges worked overtime setting bond for 7,000 antiwar protesters arrested for disrupting the streets of Washington.

The bond was high in many cases, the judges tough, the process labored, the defendants uncertain.

Some lawyers contended the courts were trying to keep the demonstrators off the streets by setting excessive bail. The judges indicated the government is interested in convicting the demonstrators.

There were claims that some of those arrested had nothing to do with the waves of demonstrators who had played tag with police while slowing rush-hour traffic.

A man identifying himself as a psychiatrist said six young persons under treatment for mental disorders were swept up by riot-garbed police near George Washington University. The patients and two attendants were said to have been arrested as they went for a therapeutic walk.

Dr. Benjamin Spock, the pediatrician, antiwar activist and one of the first released on bail, said a 12-year-old boy and a 13-year-old girl were held with 2,000 demonstrators in an outdoor compound until their parents arranged for their freedom.

Robert Hibbard, 28, of Austin, Tex., another released on 10 collateral, said the compound also held a little girl carrying school books, an Army lieutenant, several businessmen, an off-duty policeman, three medical students, a doctor and two nurses.

McClellan to Speak May 28

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., has accepted an invitation to be principal speaker at the dedication of the $5.5 million Arkansas Services Center here May 28.

Joe N. Martin, chairman of the dedication committee, said that Gov. Dale Bumpers, Lt. Gov. Bob Riley and other constitutional officers and legislators had been invited to attend.

The center will house a 100-bed unit of the State Hospital and offices for a number of other state agencies.

Inflation in Europe Hurts U.S. Dollar

LONDON (AP) — Currency speculators sent the dollar reeling on European exchanges today, and the flood of U.S. money exchanged for West German marks, Dutch guilders and Swiss francs threatened to send inflation in Europe soaring further.

Speculators saw a chance of a quick profit, anticipating another upward revaluation of the mark that might even force the guilder and the Swiss franc to go up too.

The dollar was on the floor in Frankfurt and Zurich. Only heavy buying by the Bank of England kept the rats just off the mandatory intervention point of $2.42 to the pound.

Anxiety over the monetary situation drove the price of gold up in the London and Zurich free markets. The jump was 43 cents in London to $39.86, the highest level since the 1969 crisis over the undervaluation of the mark.

Chancellor Willy Brandt's government raised the value of the mark 8.5 per cent to end the 1969 crisis. But so far officials of the Central Bank in Frankfurt deny that it is likely to be revalued upward or allowed to float free in the near future.

West Germany's Central Bank was reported to have taken in $250 million to $300 million in the first hours of trading today and more than $120 million in the last hour Monday.

Although international speculators were held responsible for the major part of the dollar flood in West Germany, some German businessmen were believed to be buying dollars as a hedge against a possible clampdown by the Bonn government on West German companies wanting to borrow foreign currency.

Despite the immediate spark fired by the West German Research Institute, the basic cause of the monetary malaise was the continuing deficit in American foreign payments and the widespread belief that sooner or later European government banks will refuse to add more dollars to their already swollen reserves and demand gold instead.

West Germany's reserves at $16 billion already are greater than those of the United States. France's supply is higher than before the huge drain of the 1968 worker-student turmoil. Even Britain, battling inflation and big production losses because of strikes, is now in a position for the first time in nearly 10 years to pay off all its short- and medium-term foreign debts.

L.R.'s Appeal Turned Down by High Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Supreme Court refused Monday to consider the Little Rock School Board's appeal of a ruling that more desegregation was required in the Little Rock school system.

The 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals issued the ruling in May 1970, saying geographic attendance zones tended to perpetuate segregation. The court then sent the case back to Federal Judge J. Smith Henley of Little Rock.

Henley ordered extensive desegregation of the secondary schools, but allowed the elementary schools to continue to operate on the neighborhood concept. The ruling was appealed by the Negro plaintiffs and the Court of Appeals has the appeal under advisement.

The Supreme Court ruled two weeks ago in cases from other states that busing was a permissible tool to eliminate "all vestiges of state-imposed segregation." The court also said desegregation plans cannot be limited to the "walk-in school." These rulings were supposed to provide guidelines for the lower courts in other school cases.

Withdrawal to Pose Tough Situation for Others in Vietnam

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Army Secretary Stanley R. Resor said today the Vietnamization program is making encouraging progress, but a difficult period lies ahead as more American combat troops are withdrawn.

As the withdrawal continues, Resor told a news conference after an eight-day visit to South Vietnam, the American "advisory effort becomes increasingly important."

"As I travelled around the country," he continued, "I was particularly impressed with the capable people serving in our advisory teams. We have made extensive efforts over the past year to attract our best officers into these teams and I believe it's clear that we're doing so."

"In addition, most of these officers have had prior experience in Vietnam. As our force levels are phasing down, our young troops are faced with a most difficult job. But they're doing it well. As we phase down we're getting a higher level of experience in our officers and noncommissioned officers in the units which remain. More of our company commanders are captains now. We have a higher complement of experienced noncommissioned officers."

Summing up the progress of Vietnamization, Resor said the South Vietnamese army has assumed responsibility for combat operations in a great many areas in which U.S. troops previously operated and "has demonstrated on numerous occasions that it is capable of assuming that responsibility."

"The territorial forces (militiamen) have continued to improve," he went on. "While much remains to be done, it is evident that in many areas they are providing the necessary security at the local level to allow social and economic development to proceed. The South Vietnamese have now taken over military responsibility through most of the country."

Wage-Price Authority to Be Extended

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is ready to renew for a year President Nixon's authority to impose price, wage and rent controls—power some Democrats contend he should be using extensively to battle inflation and unemployment.

The Senate passed 67 to 4 Monday a bill extending the authority to April 30, 1972.

The House voted March 10 for a two-year extension. But Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, said he was advised the House now will accept the Senate version shortly.

When Congress first granted it last year, the Nixon administration opposed lodging authority in the President to fix price and wage ceilings.

However, Nixon used the powers in March in attacking rising costs in the construction industry, and asked for an extension of the authority.

Democrats made certain in Monday's debate that the power to impose across-the-board controls would be the President's alone.

Sen. Robert Packwood, R-Ore., offered an amendment to require that Congress also must approve if such controls are decided upon. But the amendment was voted down 41 to 30 on party lines.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., floor manager for the bill, said the amendment should be rejected because, if Congress were to debate such an issue, business would rush to push up prices and unions would do the same with wages.

Nixon asked for a two-year extension of the authority but the Senate Banking Committee, in sending the legislation to the floor, voted for only six months. Sparkman engineered the one-year compromise.

King Slayer Just Misses Escape

PETROS, Tenn. (AP) —

James Earl Ray, who pleaded guilty to slaying Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., almost turned his 99-year prison sentence into death when he tried to escape through a prison steam tunnel.

"He would never have survived the heat if he hadn't got out of the tunnel."

Warden Robert H. Moore of the Brushy Mountain State Prison said Monday after Ray's unsuccessful escape attempt.

Ray was captured in the prison compound as he sought a way over the stone wall of the maximum security prison in the Cumberland Mountains.

He faced a disciplinary board this morning.

Ray was imprisoned after pleading guilty to the sniper slaying of King outside a Memphis motel room on April 4, 1968. Subsequently he has sought and failed to obtain a new trial on grounds his guilty plea was submitted under pressure from his attorney.

"He was in the tunnel for only about 10 minutes," Moore said, "and he had a few burns but they didn't appear to be serious."

Moore said it would have been impossible for Ray to reach the end of the tunnel without being sealed to death in the 400-degree heat. The tunnel, which leads to the prison steam plant outside the prison walls, supplies steam to the mess hall and is in use year round.

Otherwise, it was a well-conceived escape attempt, Moore said.

"First, he removed a concrete block in his cell and got out into an air chamber, a ventilating area behind the cell-block. He crawled along the air

Business Is Good in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers said Monday that Dr. Max Milam, head of the state Administration Department had reported to him an apparent improvement in the state's economy.

Bumpers, speaking to the Civic and Governmental Affairs Committee of the Little Rock Chamber of Commerce, said that if state revenues continue to come in at the present rates, the state will meet all its major commitments and have $3 million left over.

The business upswing, coupled with higher tax rates approved by the General Assembly this year, was resulting in greater amounts of state revenue, Bumpers said.

Revenue in April was reported at $3.8 million more than in the same month last year.

The governor also revealed that he had asked Milam to remain with the department another year. Milam previously announced a plan to return in September to his post at the University of Arkansas.

The U of A has not yet approved an additional year's leave of absence for Milam, but Bumpers said he expected approval would be granted.

Bumpers said he had only one personal choice remaining unmade for the directorships of the 13 major departments created by the governmental reorganization.

Besides the Department of Finance and Administration, which Bumpers has asked Milam to head, directors have not been appointed for the super departments governing higher education, education, health and pollution.

The governor said he expected the state Board of Correction would name a new correction commissioner soon to replace Robert Sarver, who was fired March 29.

Paring IRS Hurts Tax Collection

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury is losing about $1.5 billion in revenue because the Internal Revenue Service was required to make manpower and spending economies which save only $250 million, IRS Commissioner Randolph W. Thrower says.

Thus, he said, the Treasury loss was $6 for every $1 saved. Thrower gave the figures to a House Appropriations subcommittee to support the agency's request for a $108.6 million budget increase "to put tax administration in a healthier position."

The testimony, given March 24, was made public today.

Manpower available to audit tax returns is at its lowest level since 1963, Thrower said, down 12 per cent from 1968.

"A person who files an erroneous, fraudulent or delinquent return this year is more than likely to continue that practice next year and the year after unless he is corrected," Thrower said.

He said the backlog of delinquent accounts to be collected increased from 609,000 to 788,000 in two years and the uncollected amount now stands at $1.8 billion.

Fewer audits, deferred collections and a weaker fraud program, Thrower said, make his service less visible to the public and "tax fraud among the general population is not receiving the attention it clearly deserves."

"Between fiscal year 1969 and fiscal year 1971 the Treasury will have suffered a loss of $1.5 billion in direct enforcement-produced revenue, due to restricted compliance resources in that period," Thrower said.

"The 'savings' from 'economies' in IRS resources amount to roughly $250 million. That means for each dollar 'saved' the Treasury lost $6 in direct revenue."

There are 44 universities in Britain, compared with only 17 in 1945.

Debate Aid to Boeing Company

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon and Republican leaders of Congress set the stage today for early legislation to provide government guarantees for $250 million in loans to the Lockheed Co. to salvage its Tristar air bus program.

Rep. Leslie C. Arends, R-Ill., told reporters that legislation is expected to be submitted within two weeks to bail out Lockheed—the nation's largest defense contractor—and head off a heavy financial setback to California and thousands of workers.

Lockheed was in trouble after Britain's Rolls-Royce Corp., which held the contract for engines for the air bus, went into receivership.

Nixon said the decision to give aid to Lockheed would be made either Tuesday or Wednesday.

chamber to the end and sawed one bar and broke another with a crowbar," Moore said.

"He pulled himself through the hole and got out into the prison yard behind the cell block. Then he went to the steam tunnel which leads to our steam plant about 100 yards outside the prison."

Moore said Ray got help in his escape bid from his cellmate, Roy Morelock, 44, of Greene County.

The warden said Morelock, serving a life term as a habitual criminal, worked as a prison maintenance man and had access to the tools Ray used in the escape attempt—a hacksaw, crowbar, hammer and chisel.

Ray is no stranger to escapes. He was a fugitive from Missouri at the time King was slain.

He escaped April 23, 1967, from the Missouri State Penitentiary, where he was serving 20 years on a car theft charge.

He was not recaptured until arrested in London some two months after King was shot.

people wandered the streets, apparently leaderless and without design.

The federal troops, who had moved into the city at the height of Monday's disorders, were pulled back to staging positions in the suburbs. But there was no move to return to their bases the 10,000 troops who had been mobilized during the weekend.

The disengagement of troops still left thousands of police to watch warily over the city.

Rush-hour traffic—lighter than usual—moved smoothly. Protest organizers, who had promised to send 10,000 persons into the streets today, talked of a midday march on the Justice Department.

Charges of disorderly conduct, obstructing traffic, loitering or unlawful assembly were lodged against most of those arrested today—although several older, well-dressed, well-groomed pedestrians were arrested for jaywalking and hauled off in police paddywagons.

Police vehicles did more to cause brief traffic jams than did the demonstrators. Said one long-haired youth: "Everything has broken down today ... some people are out of it."

Said another: "I'm too tired."

As the rush hour began, traffic flowed smoothly across the four Potomac River bridges which were the target of Monday's disruption. Street cleaning machines crisscrossed the bridges an hour before dawn to clear away a scattering of nails and tacks.

The demonstrators conceded police and military forces had prevailed a day earlier, when the largest groups tried to block the four major bridges into Virginia without lasting success. Marine and Army troops resumed their patrols of the bridges early this morning. The soldiers were spread no more than 20 feet apart on each span.

The disruptions Monday ranged from peaceful sitdowns at busy intersections to sheer vandalism. Hundreds of trash bins, bricks, bottles, and other debris were thrown into the streets. Many cars were abandoned at intersect and some set afire. Fuel lines were snipped on buses, and several motorists, including Sen. Paul Fannin, R-Ariz., had their tires slashed.

Denounces Treatment of Puerto Rico

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A freshman New York congressman accused the federal government today of shortchanging the needy in his native Puerto Rico through built-in legislative discrimination against the island's 2.7 million residents.

"If we are going to meaningfully and effectively cope with our urban crisis and the impending influx of Puerto Rican migrants," said Rep. Herman Badillo, "we must make certain that Puerto Rico receives its full and fair share of U.S. assistance and that the island's economic development and progress is encouraged and aided to the fullest extent possible."

To that end, Badillo announced in a speech prepared for the House that he will pursue a four-point program, including a sort of Appalachian Regional Development plan for the island.

Badillo, a Democrat, claims to be the island's first son to vote in Congress. Jorge L. Cordova is Puerto Rico's nonvoting House delegate.

"Not only is Puerto Rico specifically excluded by statute from nine federal programs," he said, including those on food stamps and school milk, "but it is also continually discriminated against through unrealistic and arbitrary ceilings or discriminatory formulas based on the low per-capita income."

He urged creation of a national job bank through which Puerto Ricans who seek work on the U.S. mainland could be trained on the island. Badillo argued that "migration of Puerto Ricans from the island arises almost exclusively out of a search for expanded economic opportunity and security," not for welfare handouts.

Other phases of the Badillo program call for creation of community and economic development programs in New York City and elsewhere to serve those of Puerto Rican origin—plus attempts to include people from Puerto Rico in legislation which benefits other Americans.

Cossatot Float Trip Is Fired on

DE QUEEN, Ark. (AP) — Authorities here said Monday night that an investigation was continuing into an allegation by Fred Madenwald, an adviser for Explorer Scout Post 12 at Beaumont, Tex., that 11 shots were fired at his group of Explorers as they floated down the Cossatot River near DeQueen Sunday.

Madenwald said no one was injured and that the shots went across the bows of five canoes carrying his 10-member scout group. Madenwald said one shot splashed water into a canoe but that most of the shots hit about five feet from each canoe.

The shooting apparently is an outgrowth of a feud between landowners along the scenic and conservationists. Landowners are upset about the efforts of conservationists to keep the Cossatot a free-flowing stream through the Ouachita Mountains in Southwest Arkansas. The conservationists have filed suit seeking to keep Army Engineers from building a dam on the river.

The float Sunday was called the second annual Cossatot Pilgrimage and attracted more than 225 persons.

Madenwald said he and the scouts talked to Sheriff Kirk Anderson at DeQueen but that "he was not very cooperative."

Anderson would only say that some shooting had been reported to his office but that he did not know if any had occurred.

A spokesman at the sheriff's office said Monday night that no arrest had been made in connection with the shooting.

CRITICAL STUDENTS

NEW YORK (AP) — At a recent seminar students of Traphagen School of Fashion expressed a desire to change a lot more than just the style of garments worn by women.

They attacked today's poor workmanship, the designing of way out items for the sake of promotion and clothes that are styled to look well only on size eight models.

Urge Bumpers to Lead Drug Campaign

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers was urged Monday by nine prosecuting attorneys to take a leading role in combatting the drug problem. The prosecutors also offered recommendations concerning implementation of a new drug law.

David Hodges of Newport, who acted as spokesman for the group, said that some of the discussion involved Act 590 of 1971, the Uniform Controlled Substances Act, and provisions in the law for establishing a narcotics law enforcement division within the Department of Public Safety.

The prosecutors recommended that the effort of the new division be two-pronged, with one field of endeavor enforcement and the other education. Hodges said that local authorities have neither the training nor funds to adequately undertake either function.

Hodges said Bumpers reacted favorably to the suggestions.

The act provided a framework for a staff for enforcement of state drug laws, but no state funding was provided. Authors of the proposal anticipated that federal money would become available for the program. The money is still expected, although the program has not yet been funded in Washington.

Hope Lions enjoyed a two-part program Monday during the weekly luncheon at the Town and Country.

Mrs. Clarence Geist, Mrs. Arthur Stretch, and Mrs. Calvin Smith, members of the Hope Friday Music Club visited the Lions in observance of National Music Week May 3-10, sponsored by the National Federation of Music Clubs. Mrs. Geist led the group singing in the club and spoke on the purpose of National Music Week. Mrs. Smith told of the programs, displays around town and put particular emphasis on the Music Festival scheduled for Thursday night at Hammonds Stadium.

Program Chairman Haskell Jones then introduced Glenon Huckabee, President of the Hempstead Bottle Club. Glenon quickly observed that they only collected empty and interesting bottles.

Mr. Huckabee brought a number of old and unusual bottles and a few old glass insulators for the group to see. He told the group about the prices that old bottles bring from collectors, and warned that the interest in collecting has resulted in reproducing various old pieces which are sometimes passed off as originals by some unscrupulous dealers.

Mr. Huckabee gave tips on where to hunt and the kinds of bottles to look for.

In conclusion he spoke of the value of hobbies and invited interested persons to visit the bottle club where information and bottles are exchanged.

Mr. Gus Mayton of Houma, La., a cousin of Mr. Huckabee, was also a guest.

Leslie Bacon Held During Jury Recess

SEATTLE (AP) — The federal grand jury investigating the U.S. Capitol bombing has been recessed until Thursday while the judge considers motions to either release its chief witness or compel her to give further testimony.

U.S. Dist. Court judge George Boldt recessed the jury Monday after the panel's attention apparently turned from the Capitol bombing March 1 to an attempt last December to bomb the First National City Bank in New York City.

A formal federal request, written by U.S. Atty. Stan Pitkin after Monday's proceedings, said 19-year-old Leslie Bacon had "answered questions concerning her participation," in plans to bomb the bank. Then, "admitting her participation," she refused as the grand jury's investigation continued, to answer further questions on the grounds that she might incriminate herself Pitkin said.

The government asks that Miss Bacon be compelled to give testimony regarding her part in the Capitol blast. Her attorneys, on the other hand, are requesting a writ of habeas corpus seeking her release—contending the subpoena under which she was arrested was based on inadequate information.

Six persons were arrested at the bank but Miss Bacon was not among them. They have pleaded guilty to bomb conspiracy charges and are awaiting sentencing.

The Atherton, Calif., girl was arrested in Washington, D.C., under a federal grand jury subpoena naming her as a material witness in connection with the Capitol bombing.

The blast caused about $200,000 damage to parts of the Senate wing. No one was hurt.

Miss Bacon was brought to Seattle Thursday and went before the grand jury Friday.

The request for her release was filed by her attorneys, who said there was inadequate information to support the subpoena under which she was arrested. They also contended the $100,000 bail under which she is held is excessive.

Federal attorneys asked Boldt to compel Miss Bacon to answer more questions about the bank bombing attempt.

Boldt said he would hear arguments on the motions Wednesday and expected to issue his decision soon afterward and order the jury back into session Thursday morning.

Registered adoptions in Britain totalled 26,986 in 1968, half under one year old, a government survey showed.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

JUMPY L.O.L. GIVES NEIGHBORHOOD KIDS JITTERS

Dear Helen:

Four of us guys hang around together after school. We play street football and maybe do some goofy things, but we don't hurt anyone.

But every time four guys walk down the sidewalk (we're 15, but pretty big) somebody things "gang." We've been accused of every bad happening on the block, which we have nothing to do with.

The other night we were walking behind a little old uptight lady neighbor. We didn't intend to scare her, but I guess she thought we were going to attack her and she screamed "Muggers!" and people came running out of their houses and it's a wonder we didn't end up in juvenile hall.

Later she brought her 35-year-old son over to yak at us some more. Helen, we didn't lay a finger on her or do anything. Just being four boys in a bunch is enough to turn some people paranoid, I guess.

It doesn't stop here. My mother got a call yesterday saying if our group didn't break up, the cops would be on us. Today at school someone said, "I hear you got picked up for mugging some old lady."

What can guys do, Helen, when they're—GUILTY UNTIL PROVEN INNOCENT

Dear GUP:

You hit it right on the nose when you said, "Four boys in a bunch is enough to turn some people paranoid." Unfortunately there are L.O.L.'s (younger ones too) who assume all teenage males are depraved, and in "gangs," dangerous.

How to change the image? If you're really interested (admit it now—you kind of enjoy being misjudged by the uptights)—offer to mow this woman's lawn: free. Talk to her—and to other adults on the block. You may consider this boring, but you might discover they're more human than you think.—H. Dear Helen:

I'm thinking of becoming a mortician and am wondering what the chances of marriage might be for a person of that profession.

Are morticians in general more apt to be single or divorced? Do they get married usually before they set up practice, or after?

The job offers security and a very comfortable living, and depressions don't bring many lay-offs, but I don't want to be a bachelor all my life.

Could you ask girls what they think about marrying a mortician?—CALL ME MORT

Dear Mort:

Sorry, I'm not up on marriage mortality rates among morticians, but I rather imagine that if a girl falls in love with you, she'll accept your profession.

All I know is, I once lived next door to a happily married mortician whose wife used embalming bottles (buried, bottoms up) to make garden paths and borders. She had the "glassiest" yard in the neighborhood, but breakage was a

Dear Helen:

What do you think of a teacher who:

Makes you walk around with a wad of gum on your nose?

Tells you to write a composition over five times because you drew flowers on it?

Always insults you, and says you're spastic because you can't draw?

Won't explain anything or let you talk to him? Just puts you down and gets the other kids laughing at you so you want to go through the floor? What I can't understand is—a lot of kids actually LIKE him.

Makes you wear your coat all day because you have a see-through blouse on, but when other girls wear them (even without much on underneath) he thinks they're great?

Threatens to call your parents about your "disrespect," when you finally blow up and say what you think?

I get along great with other teachers. Is it me—or HIM?—Both, probably.

Personality clashes hard to explain, but when two people react on each other like soda or vinegar, it's often because both are stubborn, strong-willed, and feeling threatened.

Don't waste time fighting what you can't change. Just stick it out till June and make sure you don't draw this teacher next year.—H.

Bobcats Run Over Taylor in Baseball

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Nothing could go wrong Monday. Just ask the Hope Bobcats.

Collecting 16 hits, the Bobcats put 25 runs on the scoreboard in a walk by Sidney Waller, a single by Buddy Ingram, and a squeeze bunt by Bill Moore.

An inning later, with Taylor still held scoreless, Paul Young reached first on an error, and singles by Lynn Norton and Bill Rowland, along with various walks and sacrifices, pushed six more runs across for the high-flying Bobcats.

With everyone batting around in the last two innings and the bench being emptied, Hope scored 11 runs in the third inning and six runs in the fourth.

Norton, (4-0), was credited with the victory, allowing no hits, while striking out eight batters in three innings. The save went to Richard Butler, who allowed only one hit, while striking out three in the last two innings.

Hope High Golfers to State Tourney

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Coming in second in the district golf match last Friday, the Hope High School golfers have earned a berth in the state tournament May 13.

Although finishing seven strokes ahead of Arkadelphia, who finished third, the HHS golfers were still behind new district champ Camden, by a total of 16 strokes.

Jack Turner led Hope with a 77, followed by Jimmy Pruden with an 81, and Jerry Pruden and Tim Hogan, back at 87 each.

Turner finished third overall in individual medalist honors, behind Red Jordan and Gordon Parham, both of Camden, with 74 and 75 respectively.

Camden had 306 total strokes, Hope with 322 total strokes, and Arkadelphia with a total of 339.

The Bobcat golfers are now preparing for the state golf match.

Turning to the last of track, Charles Frazier will be representing the Bobcats at the state meet, after qualifying in district with leap of 21' 5/4" in the broad jump, to once again break his own school record.

Frazier should fair well in the state meet, after recording several good jumps lately.

Sugar Bowl Game Moves to 11 a.m.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Sugar Bowl, fighting to maintain the prestige of being one of the four major bowl games on New Year's Day, agreed today to move its kickoff up from noon to 11 a.m., CST, to accommodate television.

The American Broadcasting System had asked the Sugar Bowl to switch the game to Monday night, Jan. 3, but Sugar Bowl brass resisted and the network agreed to the compromise.

By moving the kickoff to 11 a.m., the Sugar Bowl will be starting two hours before the Cotton Bowl at Dallas.

Television ratings for this year's game between Tennessee and Air Force reportedly were cut in half when the Notre Dame-Texas match in the Cotton Bowl began one hour after the Sugar Bowl kickoff.

The Sugar Bowl's television contract—worth an estimated $500,000 per year—comes up for renewal after the 1972 and game sponsors are anxious to improve their television audience.

The time for the 1971 game was moved up from 12:45 p.m. to noon to accommodate television.

"An 11 a.m. kickoff isn't voting to be bad if we have a good match," said one Sugar Bowl source. "But then, if it's a good match, any starting time will be good. This is going to be a critical year for us. We must come in with two good teams."

Garr Top Hitter in National

ATLANTA (AP) — "I feel that if I had gotten off to a Tech was invited in 1956, is of slow start, they would have officially a voting member but sent me out," says Ralph Garr of the Braves.

So the young man Atlanta fans have nicknamed "Road Runner" because of his speed got off to a fast start—fast enough to carry him quickly to a No. 1 spot among National League hitters.

His average has been above .400 most of the season and reached a season high .434 last weekend. It is currently .400.

Ironically, the 25-year-old Grambling graduate might not be in the Brave lineup if it hadn't been for an injury suffered by the fellow who led the league in hitting last year, Atlanta leftfielder Rico Carty.

Carty injured a knee playing winter ball and is lost to the Braves for at least half the season.

Garr, who had had only a couple of short stints previously with the Braves, stepped right into Carty's place, in left field and at the plate.

Schedules in SW Shaken Up by Houston

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — The Southwest Conference began a furious shuffling of schedules today in an attempt to put new member University of Houston in the football championship picture by 1976.

The Cougars, welcomed aboard in what was announced as a unanimous vote Monday, will not play for the basketball championship until 1975-76.

Howard Grubbs, executive secretary of the Southwest Conference, said hopefully Houston will be in the football picture by 1976.

But he added, "We have to make a lot of scheduling adjustments. The first really clear year is 1980. A number of teams have 11-game schedules filled through 1977, 1978 and 1979 which will have to be changed."

Grubbs said, "We've got to get to work on the schedule or we are dead."

Houston, first expansion member of the SWC since Texas Tech was invited in 1956, is of slow start, they would have officially a voting member but sent me out," says Ralph Garr of the Braves.

Oakland and Indian Trade Questioned

CLEVELAND (AP) — Talk of a trade between the Cleveland Indians and the Oakland Athletics involving Tribe southpaw Sam McDowell, who has a 1-4 record, still is being heard, but the trade appears to be more of a possibility than a probability.

The Athletics' offer of pitcher Chuck Dobson and five other players from a list of 12 for McDowell was sloughed off by the Indians' Committee over the weekend.

Jim Stoffer, son of owner Vernon Stouffer and a member of the committee, said Monday that the committee "will get together some time this week and Manager Alvin Dark will give us his thoughts, but the players the A's are offering, well, every organization has a lot of their kind."

The general sentiment among committee members, who include Dark, is that the A's proposal represents quantity instead of quality and quality is what the Indians need now.

In Oakland, A's Manager Dick Williams said, "We made a genuine offer. They can make some selections, but they haven't come back to us."

Dark told newsmen: "You tell Williams we'll give him 12 players for Vida Blue."

The Oakland Tribune said the Indians' five-man executive committee, which includes Dark, has been given a list of 12 players offered for the big lefthander. It said six were from the Oakland roster and six from minor league farm clubs, but no names were disclosed.

Rice's had of friendship cleared perhaps the biggest barrier the Cougars faced. The Owls and Cougars tangle in football for the first time Sept. 11 in Rice Stadium.

Chapman said Rice had been unjustly "painted as the black guys in the past."

Houston Athletic Director Harry Fouke, who has been with the school since it opened its doors in 1945, was asked why he had heavily courted the SWC so long to become a member.

"I just like the boys," he laughed.

Travs Down Birmingham by 8 to 5

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — The Arkansas Travelers rang up four runs in the fourth inning and used Bob Wissler's two-run homer in the sixth to wrap up an 8-5 victory over Birmingham Monday night.

The victory moved the Travelers into a tie for first place in the Central Division of the Dixie Association.

The Athletics were trailing 8-1 going into the bottom of the ninth but rallied for four runs on a three-run homer by Sam Lovelace and an RBI single by Roger Cain.

The two clubs combined for 30 hits and left a total of 27 runners on base.

In other Dixie Association action, Memphis hammered out a 9-2 verdict over Shreveport, Jacksonville edged Montgomery 3-1, Charlotte defeated Columbus 8-1, Dallas-Fort Worth trounced Amarillo 7-5 and San Antonio bombed Albuquerque 14-2. Savannah at Asheville was rained out.

Lonberg on Way Back to Majors

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Jim Lonberg may be pitching himself right out a job with the International League Louisville Colonels—and back to the major leagues.

The former Cy Young winner who led the Boston Red Sox to the 1967 American League pennant twirled a masterful one-hitter Monday night as the Colonels downed Toledo 5-0.

The only Mud Hen hit was a first-inning single by Russ Nagelson, as Lonberg struck out eight and walked only two in moving his record to 4-0.

The tall righthander, plagued for the past three seasons with various ailments—including a sore arm—now has a string of 23 consecutive scoreless innings.

Preakness Next Triple Crown Event

By GORDON BEARD
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — Local racing fans who regard the Kentucky Derby as a wedding-out race for the Preakness are having trouble supporting the hypothesis this year.

Not surprisingly, the upset victory by Canonero II in the 20-horse Kentucky Derby last Saturday has done little to scare off the opposition for the second of the Triple Crown races.

The Kentucky-bred, who was sold for $1,200 as a yearling and then was raced in Venezuela, returned $19.40 for a $2 bet after winning the Derby, but the payoff probably would have been astronomical had he not been made one of six field horses.

Churchill Downs officials hit the other five field horses right on the nose, as they finished in the last five positions. But Canonero II, with Gustavo Avila aboard, came out of the pack to win by a widening 3 3/4 lengths.

From five to seven of the Derby horses who trailed Canonero II are expected to face the colt again at Pimlico in the May 15 Preakness as he continues the quest to become the first Triple Crown winner since Citation in 1948.

Another 10 or 11 horses quartered at eastern tracks, headed by Good Behavior, Salem, Executioner, Limit To Reason, Dynatic, Your Excellency and Leematt, are considered possibilities.

The $150,000-added Preakness, which at 1 3/16 miles is shorter than the 1 1/4 mile Derby, will be run on a track which is much narrower than Churchill Downs.

So, if more than 14 entries are made, the Preakness will have to be run in two divisions for only the second time in history.

The first time was in 1918, when there were 26 entries. Ten scratches resulted in one division of 10 horses and one of six.

In 1928, a record Preakness field of 18 went to the post. That was when a webbed barrier instead of a starting gate was used, and there was no state racing rule giving each starter a minimum of five feet of track.

Tuesday, May 4, 1971 going. He has given up just 15 hits and four runs—three of them earned—in 34 innings and has an 0.32 earned run average.

Colonel manager Darrell Johnson, who was the Red Sox bullpen coach in '67, wouldn't say Lonberg's latest normance meant a quick trip back to Boston, where the Red Sox are leading the American League's Eastern Division by one game.

"Lonberg can pitch major league ball," the former big league catcher said. "But the need for him has to be there."

"When the need comes, that's when he'll go. I don't know what military commitments the Red Sox have. Nobody has mentioned anything to me so I really don't know when he'll be going back to Boston."

Lonberg, who spent part of last season with the Colonels and was sent down March 30 this year, may get his chance soon.

Bosox manager Eddie Kasko said recently "Ken Brett is due to go into the Army for a couple of weeks May 15 and we'll probably make a decision on Lonnie then."

Stanley Cup Final Opens Tonight

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Brimming with confidence, the Chicago Black Hawks take on the Montreal Canadiens tonight to open the final round of the Stanley Cup playoffs.

Three times these two teams have met in the final round and all three times the Canadiens have won the coveted Cup, the last being in 1965 in a series which went the full distance of seven games.

This time the Hawks, champions of the Western Division of the National Hockey League, feel confident despite a gruelling seven-game series with the New York Rangers which ended Sunday night with a 4-2 victory.

Montreal, having finished third in the Eastern Division, upset Boston in the first round and then defeated Minnesota in a six-game series which ended Thursday.

For all practical purposes, the Hawks should be somewhat weary while the Canadiens should hit the ice well rested.

"Maybe they'll be a little fresher," said Bobby Hull, "that could be a problem. But let's wait and see. Montreal is coming off a team which is not quite the team we are."

Eggs are associated with Easter because the egg is a symbol of fertility and resurrection.

Balk and Game Loss Anger Cubs

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
Was it a balk or wasn't it? Well ... yes ... and no. Would you believe almost? How about maybe?

The Chicago Cubs still don't believe it. They feel the balk that wasn't cost them a ballgame Monday night, in New York and let the Mets make off with a 3-2 victory on Tommie Agee's pinch single with two out in the 11th inning.

In the only other major league action, the Philadelphia Phillies edged the St. Louis Cardinals by an identical 3-2 score.

That was the situation when the argument started at Shea Stadium Monday night. Score tied 2-all, top of the ninth, bases loaded and Ron Santo, who had driven in a run with a sacrifice fly in the first inning, at bat.

Reliever Tug McGraw starts his windup, then steps back off the mound. "Balk!" yells third base umpire Stan Landes, and Ken Holtzman, the runner at third, trots happily plateward. "No balk," overrules plate umpire Mel Steiner, explaining that he had signaled for time before McGraw started his move.

As you might expect, here comes Leo Durocher, the Chicago manager.

"How could you call time after he called a balk?" Durocher wants to know. "If you'll listen to me, I'll explain it to you," cajoles Steiner. "I signaled for time before the balk."

End of argument. What could Durocher say. The Lip was speechless and he remained so afterwards.

"It happens 15 or 20 times a game," said Steiner. "Santo was scratching around in the dirt with his spikes trying to get set and I held up my hand for time. I can't let McGraw quick-pitch him, can I? I've got to protect the hitter."

"Santo complained that he was in the batter's box. I told him I don't have to protect him when he's out of the box, do I?"

Santo then watched a third strike and Johnny Callison tapped to first for the third out.

The Mets won it when Jerry Grote, who doubled home their first run in the fourth inning, lashed a two-out double in the 11th, his fourth hit, off loser Holtzman, 0-4.

After an intentional pass to Tim Foli, Agee, who didn't start because of bruised ribs, batted for McGraw, 3-1, and punched a 3-2 pitch to right field.

"I saw Steiner put his hand up," McGraw said. "That's why I stopped my windup. In fact, I'm glad it was called the way it was. I didn't think it was a balk at all. I thought I stepped off the mound properly. Now I know."

McGraw picked up the triumph and also singled in his only at-bat, giving him two hits in three trips.

Grote singled in the seventh, took third on Foli's double and scored on Bud Harrelson's sacrifice fly to put the Mets ahead 2-1. The Cubs tied it in the eighth when Billy Williams drilled his sixth home run of the season.

In the night's only other game, the Phillies stopped the Cardinals 3-2 as Larry Bowa knocked in two runs with a bases-loaded single in the eighth inning.

Bowa's two-out single, his fourth hit of the game, came off reliever Don Shaw and chased home Tim McCarver and Larry Hise.

Earlier, rookie right fielder Roger Freed shot down a St. Louis rally in the third inning by throwing at speedy Lou Brock at home.

Freed's picture toss followed a bases-loaded single by Ted Simmons scoring Dal Maxvill and nailed Brock, who was trying to make it from second base. Maxvill's was the Cardinal only run in a 1-1 tie that existed until Bowa's tie-breaking hit in the eighth.

Freed's throw saved Philadelphia starter Barry Lersch, who held on to pick up his second victory of the season.

Tim McCarver opened the eighth with a single and took second on Freed's sacrifice. After Don Money was intentionally walked and Larry Hise rolled into a force out, pinch-hitter Ron Stone walked to set the stage for Bowa, who made the score 3-1.

The Cardinals made it close with a run in the ninth on Jim Beauchamp's sacrifice fly before reliever Joe Hoerner killed the rally.

Bob Strampe, 1970 runnerup in the Masters bowling tournament, has a record 211 average for his last 10 years in ABC competition.

Top Car Is Entered in the Winston

TALLADEGA, Ala. (AP) — John Holman has entered his top-rated Holman-Moody Ford stock car in the rich Winston 500 race scheduled for May 16 at the International Motor Speedway here.

Holman, however, in a surprise move indicated that the driver for his car will not be former Grand National champion David Pearson. Pearson has driven for Holman for the past five years. No reason for Pearson's absence was given.

"We will select a driver for the car later," said Holman. "Right now, our main concern is getting the car ready for the race."

Qualifying trials for the classic get underway May 12, and the 50-car starting field will continue to qualify through the morning of the 15th.

The Holman racer was the 73rd entry for the $165,000-purse race.

Kentucky Still Hopeful in Defeat

By QUANE KENYON
Associated Press Writer

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Kentucky Coach Frank Ramsey points to Wednesday's game as the key contest in the American Basketball Association's championship playoff.

"We'll be in there Wednesday," Ramsey said Monday night after his Colonels absorbed a 136-117 pasting at the hands of the Utah Stars in the opening game of the series.

"If we are going to be a threat in this series, we've got to win Wednesday," Ramsey said.

Kentucky started off Monday's game as if it would break a season-long jinx in the Salt Palace. The Colonels have yet to win a game in the 13,200-seat facility.

Dan Issel scored 17 points in the first quarter as the Colonels jumped to a 12-point lead and led 35-26 entering the second quarter.

Then Utah's George Stone, a 6-8 reserve forward, got hot and it was all over.

Led by Stone, who scored 20 points in a 12-minute spree, Utah collected 50 points in the second quarter and piled up a margin that the Colonels couldn't overcome.

That 50-point outburst broke the ABA's playoff record for scoring in one quarter. The old record of 48 was set in 1968 by Pittsburgh and tied last year by Texas.

Issel, after a tremendous start, was held to 10 points the rest of the game, a key factor in Utah's victory. Guard Darrell Carrier picked up the slack for the Colonels, hitting 36 points including six three-pointers.

Utah Coach Bill Sharman said, "Issel is such a fantastic player and a great shooter that nobody is going to shut him off. But we started picking him up higher and gave Zelmo Beaty a little help."

Beaty and Stone led Utah scoring with 26 each. Ron Boone, another reserve, added 24. Stone grabbed 12 rebounds and Beaty had 16.

The Colonels got little punch besides Issel and Carrier. Louie Dampier had just three points and no other starter hit double figures.

Monday's crowd of 12,051 brought Utah's home playoff attendance to 61,157 for six games.

Final in Texas for Baseball

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Texas, with the Southwest Conference title already tucked away, takes on Texas A&M today in the final game of the SWC baseball campaign.

The Longhorns pounded out a 9-6, 6-3 doubleheader sweep Monday in the climactic series between the arch rivals, who were tied for the lead with 12-3 records.

The twin triumph propelled the defending champion Longhorns into the playoffs against an NCAA at-large team. The winner qualifies for the College World Series at Omaha, Neb.

Ring Barely Outlasts Boxers

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The betting was 5-to-2 that Emile Griffith would win and, as the fight went on, the betting was 8-to-1 against the ring going the distance.

Griffith, the former world welterweight and middleweight champion, did indeed win a decision over Ernie "Indian Red" Lopez in 10 rounds and much to the relief of all concerned, the ring managed to last, too, after the ropes twice collapsed.

New York's Griffith weighed 154 and Los Angeles' Lopez 152. The match was staged at the Nevada Ice Palace, home of the Las Vegas Gamblers hockey team, which was converted for the first time into a boxing arena. There was nothing wrong with the arena except that too few people came in—perhaps 3,500—and the craftsmanship erecting the ring left much to be desired.

The fight itself was hardly spectacular although both boys tired hard. But there were untimely interruptions.

The first game in the sixth when they were mixing it up pretty good and suddenly the top strand of the ring rope collapsed which halted the action in the ring.

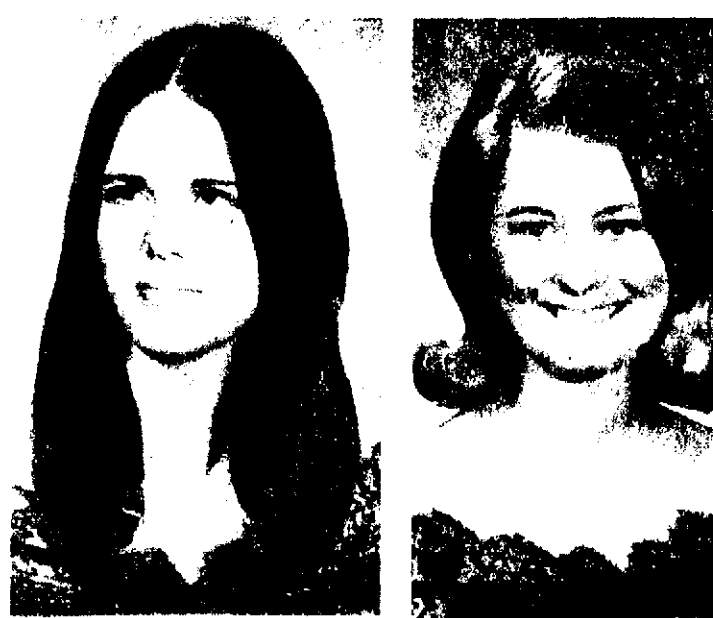

In the eighth round, Griffith scored with a long left hook to Indian Red's jaw and Indian Red went lurching backwards. Whether he was stung or caught off balance was debatable because at that moment the ropes collapsed a second time.

The fighters gave the ropes a good workout in the final two rounds as first one and then the other with bull-like rushes forced the other back. The ropes withstood the test. There was a sigh of relief when the fight ended.

It was the initial promotion for a dedicated boxing fan named Harry Bloomfield, a one-time ticket broker in New York and Hollywood who has lived here several years and was intent on staging a fight card.

West Germans ate their way through 177,000 tons of whipped cream in 1970.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

One argument in favor of indiscriminate opening of four-card major suits and particularly the spade suit lies in the pre-emptive value. When you open with one spade, your opponent can only overcall at the two level.

There is no question about this pre-emptive value, but we have found that for the one time when it pre-empt's your opponents there are several occasions when it pre-empt's your partner. Therefore, in JACOBY MODERN we never open a four-card spade suit in first or second seat when we have a reasonable minor suit opening at our disposal.

After North opens one diamond, the bidding develops logically to a final contract of two hearts. East and West can't get into the bidding and South will surely make two hearts.

Now let's see what happens if North opens one spade. South may raise to two spades. In that case, North will play the hand there and be set one or possibly two tricks.

Suppose South tries one no-trump. North will probably pass. West will open the five of clubs and South will have a great deal of trouble collecting more than five tricks. Or North may rebid to two diamonds. This will lead to the same unsuccessful two-suit contract. The players who open with one spade wind up minus: those who open one diamond wind up plus.

Low-Fat Milk Products Are Best

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—We read your article and felt moved to write you on your notion about animal fat being the cause of cholesterol levels in heart and vascular disease. Dairying is our business. While waiting in a doctor's office, I read an article in a health journal that said they realized cholesterol levels are not changed by animal fats but more likely by genetics. Haven't you heard about this yet?

Dear Reader—Thank you for your letter and also the enclosures of a dairy association. Of course I have heard of the influence of genetics on cholesterol levels and so have most authorities working on this problem. It is one of several factors. I understand your concern since you are in the dairy business.

Now let's clarify a few points. The enclosure you sent refers to the Framingham Diet Study and states that fats are unrelated to cholesterol. A number of groups in the food industry, including both meat and dairy groups, have made this statement out of context trying to vindicate their position.

Let's hear what the scientists say who did the actual study:—"It does not mean that the difference between Framingham and some other population (say the people of Japan) in serum cholesterol is unrelated to differences between these populations in diet. Still less does it mean that serum cholesterol levels cannot be changed by changes in dietary intake."

Worldwide studies have been conducted on different populations in Africa, Asia, Europe and the United States. Different forms of living habits have been studied and even the effects of imprisonment and occupation during war.

The huge mass of data accumulated through history and on a worldwide basis clearly indicates the role of too much fat of any kind in the diet and particularly saturated fats found in dairy products and animal fats. This is not my personal opinion; it is the official opinion of the Inter Society Commission on Heart Disease funded by the federal government and reported Dec. 14, 1970. The Commission recommended that less than 35 per cent of all the calories in the diet should be fat and less than 10 per cent of the calories should be of the saturated fat variety.

The dairy industry could do a lot for health by developing a positive attitude. This means using cattle that produce milk relatively low in fat (like Holstein cattle versus Jersey cattle). And, of course, people can use the low-fat milk products and the nonfat milk powders and uncreamed cottage cheese—all are good for the health. The truth is, I favor using a quart of milk a day to provide enough calcium, BUT you can get that without the butter fat by using nonfat milk in cooking and other low-fat products.

I really do sympathize with you. When I was a boy, my father operated a dairy.

You, South, hold:

♠ K 5 4 3 ♥ 8 6 3 2 ♦ A K Q ♣ 7 4

What do you do now?

A—Pass. Things have taken a nasty turn. Quit before you get in more trouble.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of raising you to two diamonds your partner has bid one heart over your one diamond. What do you do now?

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — The

educational television network presented a news special on American attitudes about the Indochina war Monday night and crammed a lot of information and opinion into 90 minutes.

The program, "Homefront '71: The President, the Press and the Public" started with a report on Madison, Wis., which about a month ago voted two to one for immediate withdrawal from Indochina—"a 180 degree turn around," said moderator Frank Mankiewicz, because a similar proposition was voted down three years ago.

This segment was followed by some Gallup poll results of a survey commissioned by the program.

Some figures were based on the credibility gap, and Herbert G. Klein, White House director of communication, was questioned by a quartet of public broadcasting correspondents about the credibility gap. He defended the administration as he has on many programs before.

Most interesting portion came last, an informal discussion of the quality of war coverage by the media and difficulties encountered. The participants were ABC's Frank Reynolds; Elie Abel, former NBC newsmen and now dean of Columbia University's school of journalism; Phil Goulding, former assistant secretary of state, and Mankiewicz. This was an enlightening exchange of ideas and opinions by well-informed men, without heat or rancor—the kind of thing that used to brighten commercial television's Sunday afternoons.

It was an ambitious program, but worked out awkwardly. Statistics are always difficult to present and it really consisted of three programs grouped under one heading.

Alan Landsburg recently produced a program in cooperation with the National Institutes of Health about reducing the risk of heart attacks. He was so impressed that before it was finished he had quit his 1½ packs a day cigarette habit, took to jogging around Beverly Hills and began looking horrified when associates nibbled snacks during the cocktail hour.

Landsburg decided he was a prime candidate—in age, type of occupation and under tension—for the ailment responsible for 60 per cent of the deaths among American males. The result of his effort will be seen tonight on ABC at 10-11 EDT, a study called "How to Stay Alive."

The program will permit the viewer to evaluate his way of life and figure his own chances. It will also suggest ways to reduce the chance of trouble.

Hope and Hempstead County's newest industry, Kustom Kraft, Inc., had a ground breaking on Monday, April 26, at its newly acquired property in the Industrial Park, located north of Interstate 30 and just off Arkansas Highway 29, for the purpose of constructing a designed manufacturing plant of 15,052 square feet to meet the needs of the rapidly growing mobile home industry.

Kustom Kraft, Inc., started business less than a year ago on July 1, 1970, in the former Wire Products building opposite City Hall. Major stockholders in Kustom Kraft, Inc., are W.C. Bruner, Jr., and his sister, Mrs. Talbot Feild,

U.S. Bars Diversion of Federal Fund

LITTLE ROCK (AP) —An official of the Little Rock School District said Sunday that 24 district staff members cannot be paid with federal funds following criticism by the U.S. Office of Education about how Title I money is spent.

The office recently sent a letter to the state Education Department saying that the funds were to be used for underprivileged children. The office said that in many districts in Arkansas the money was going into general funds, instead of being used for specified purposes.

Andy F. Aldridge, director of the federal programs office for the district, said 11 library aides, seven librarians, four attendance officers and two counselors could no longer be paid with the money.

Pulitzer Prizes Based on Kent State

NEW YORK (AP) — Two Pulitzer prizes have been awarded for coverage of the Kent State University campus tragedy in which Ohio National Guardsmen killed four students and wounded nine others a year ago today.

The staff of the Akron, Ohio, Beacon Journal won the general local reporting award Monday for its work in piecing together the story of the shootings under deadline pressure.

John Paul Filo, 22, won the spot photography award for his widely published picture of a distraught girl kneeling over the body of one of the slain students.

In the arts, the 1971 Pulitzer prize for drama went to Paul Zindel's "The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the-Moon Marigolds"—the second year in a row an off-Broadway play won the award.

For the first time since 1964 no fiction prize was awarded. The fiction jurors were reported to have offered three different candidates for awards: "Mr. Sammler's Planet," by Saul Bellow; "Losing Battles," by Eudora Welty, and "The Wheel of Love and Other Stories," by Joyce Carol Oates.

The award to the Akron Beacon Journal noted its balanced presentation of the campus events despite wild rumors. Robert H. Giles, managing editor of the Knight newspaper, said, "We're delighted to have been so honored.

"We received a good deal of criticism from public officials and our readers at the time many of our stories were published," Giles added. "I think all of our stories stood the test of truth over the time since then."

Filo was a photo lab assistant at Kent State at the time of the tragedy. He had gone out for lunch with a borrowed camera and lens when the shooting began. He recalled seeing the body and the girl kneel beside it.

"There were students blocking my view so I moved to the left and waited. I was near the end of the roll of film and she was just looking down, crying, and then she let out with this scream and that's when I made the picture."

The Pulitzer prize for national reporting went to Lucinda Franks, 24, and Thomas Powers, 30, of United Press International for their background exploration of Diana Oughton, 28, killed in the explosion of a bomb factory in a Greenwich Village townhouse.

The prize for public service by a newspaper went to the Winston-Salem, N.C., Journal and Sentinel for their coverage of environmental problems including a successful fight against a proposed strip mining operation that would have blighted the beauty of northwestern North Carolina.

The Pulitzer prize for international reporting went to Jimmie Lee Hoagland, 31, of the Washington Post for reporting on South Africa's apartheid system.

William Jones, 31, of the Chicago Tribune, won the Pulitzer prize for special local reporting for an investigative series that exposed payoffs to police in the private ambulance industry.

Paul Conrad was at work at the Los Angeles Times when he learned he had won his second Pulitzer prize in seven years for cartooning. He first won in 1964 while working for the Denver Post.

The feature photography prize went to Jack Dykinga, 28, of the Chicago Sun-Times, for pictures of children in the Lincoln and Dixon State School for the Retarded in Illinois.

William A. Caldwell, 64, won the prize for commentary for his daily column on local affairs in the Record of Hackensack, N.J.

Horace G. Davis Jr. of the Gainesville, Fla., Sun won the award for editorial writing for more than 30 editorials in the newspaper's campaign in support of desegregation of Florida schools.

The award for criticism was won by Harold C. Schonberg, 55, senior music critic for the New York Times for the past 10 years.

The trustees of Columbia University awarded the 55th annual Pulitzer prizes on recommendation of an advisory board.
